Numonics INTELLIBOARD Interactive Whiteboard Acquired by Police Department

November 11, 2011, Montgomeryville, PA– The Upper Dublin Township Police Department (UDTPD) announced the incorporation of INTELLIBOARD into their training program. “Safety and training; The two go hand in hand in police work,” says David E.Madrak, Professional Standards Officer with UDTPD, Montgomery County, Pa. “Having a Numonics INTELLIBOARD interactive whiteboard enables us to provide dynamic training which leads to better safety for the officers. Safety training is a critical and the officers receive ongoing training to insure their safety and provide it for the community,”Madrak added.

“Providing interactive presentation technology to the Upper Dublin Police Department assists the department in their primary mission of protecting life and property in the 13.2 square mile township which includes 26,000 people, stated Alfred N. Basilicato President and CEO of Numonics Corporation. “The fact that our award winning INTELLIBOARD is actually manufactured in Montgomery County, PA. is an added bonus to the department since we proudly display the American flag on every product we manufacture. By providing the best warranty in the industry our products have the lowest cost of ownership,” Basilicato continued.

“Numonics introduced the world’s first interactive whiteboard utilizing pen based technology in 1994 and contributed to the digital revolution that has taken place in classrooms and training centers across the globe. We are proud to make our innovative product available to police departments in our county and across the country. “stated Tom Harwick, Numonics Sales Manager.
