

Emailing Your Sessions as HTML Pages

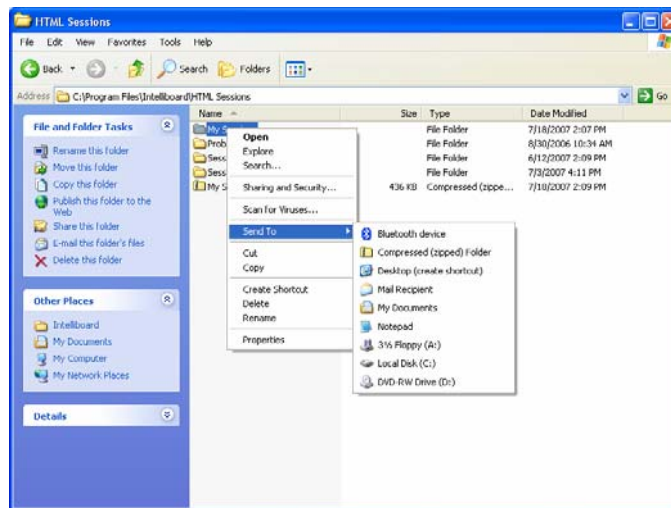

Before you can email your session, you have to save it as web pages. From the File drop down menu, choose Save as Web Pages

The default path is C:\Program Files\Intelliboard\HTML Pages, or you can browse to another drive or folder, name your session and click OK.

Before you create your email, browse to the folder where you saved the HTML session. Right click the session folder and choose Send to / Compressed (zipped) Folder.

Once the .zip file is created, right click and choose Sent To and then Mail Recipient.

Enter the recipient address, subject and text and send the email.

When the student receives the email, they should double click the .zip attachment and choose Open. Once they see the Session folder, they will right click and copy it to their hard drive.

The student can then open the folder and double click the _Pg1. html file to open it in a browser window, and they'll be able to scroll through the entire session via the browser.
